2016 Haitian Entrants Support

Cal OES State Operations Center (SOC) is partially activated in support of this event.

Haitian Entrants, San Ysidro, San Diego County

- An unprecedented number of Haitian entrants have been arriving at the San Ysidro Port of Entry in recent weeks. Haitians, like Cubans and refugees, are a special class of immigrants who are immediately eligible for public social services upon arrival to the United States. The Haitian entrants processed by U.S. Immigration and Customer Enforcement are now sheltered at three different locations: Christ Ministry Center - United Methodist Church, City of San Diego; California National Guard (CNG) National City Armory; and the CNG El Cajon Armory. Most Haitian entrants will relocate to other parts of the country with no intent to reside long term in San Diego.
- The Christ Ministry Center shelter had an overnight population of 45 Haitian entrants with most being women and children.
- The CNG El Cajon Armory shelter opened on 09/20/16 and had an overnight population of 47.
- The CNG National City Armory shelter is operational and had an overnight population of 80 down from 126 Haitian entrants.
- Multiple NGO's are contributing to provide for all wrap around services for both of the shelters.

Non Governmental Organizations

- Alliance San Diego/Christ Ministry Center United Methodist Church, continues to operate the two temporary shelters established at the CNG Armories and also the Christ Ministry Center.
- The Alliance San Diego and Christ Ministry Center held a press conference at the Christ Ministry Center and hope with this public address they will obtain some support from the community.
- The Bishop's Storehouse has donated $2,500 worth of food and supplies to support the Haitian entrants.
- Catholic Charities: Catholic Charities communicated with ORR and confirmed that recently released resources can be used for transportation and transitional housing in a manner that would be helpful in the present situation.
- The American Red Cross (ARC) is continuing to work with the Alliance San Diego and Christ Ministry Center United Methodist Church to provide unbranded cots, blankets, hygiene kits, dormitory management expertise, technical assistance and training to church personnel in managing shelters.

2016 Haitian Entrants Support

State agencies currently supporting the sheltering operations are as follows:

- The California Department of Social Services (CDSS) is coordinating with U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Administration for Children and Families and Office of Refugee Resettlement.
- On 09/20/2016 CDSS issued a one-time augmentation of $1.3 million of Refugee Social Services (RSS) funding provided by ORR. San Diego's share of the $1.3 million totals $462,998 ($334,224 to San Diego County Health and Human Services Agency and $128,764 to Catholic Charities/Wilson Fish - award distributed via ORR).
- CDSS Disaster Services Bureau (DSB) reached out to its feeding partners (Southern Baptist Disaster Relief, The Salvation Army, food banks, etc.) to find out if they have the resources/capacity to handle feeding operations or provide food to the shelters.
- DSB is working with our Emergency Food Assistance Program (EFAP) to research commodities programs.
- Cal Volunteers has one staff member at the National City Armory and one at the El Cajon Armory. Cal Volunteers has also activated 11 California AmeriCorps Disaster Team members to assist in sheltering operations.
- The California Department of Public Health (CDPH) is coordinating with U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, Office of Refugee Resettlement, Office of Refugee Health, and local public health.
- CDPH ORH contacted the County on the Zika testing for the pregnant women. CDPH is awaiting information from the County.
- The California National Guard (CNG) is mission tasked to stand up two Armories for shelter.
- The San Diego Operational Area is monitoring the situation and will assist in the set-up of a health screening tool and connect individuals that need help with medical services.

WEATHER SYNOPSIS BY REGION

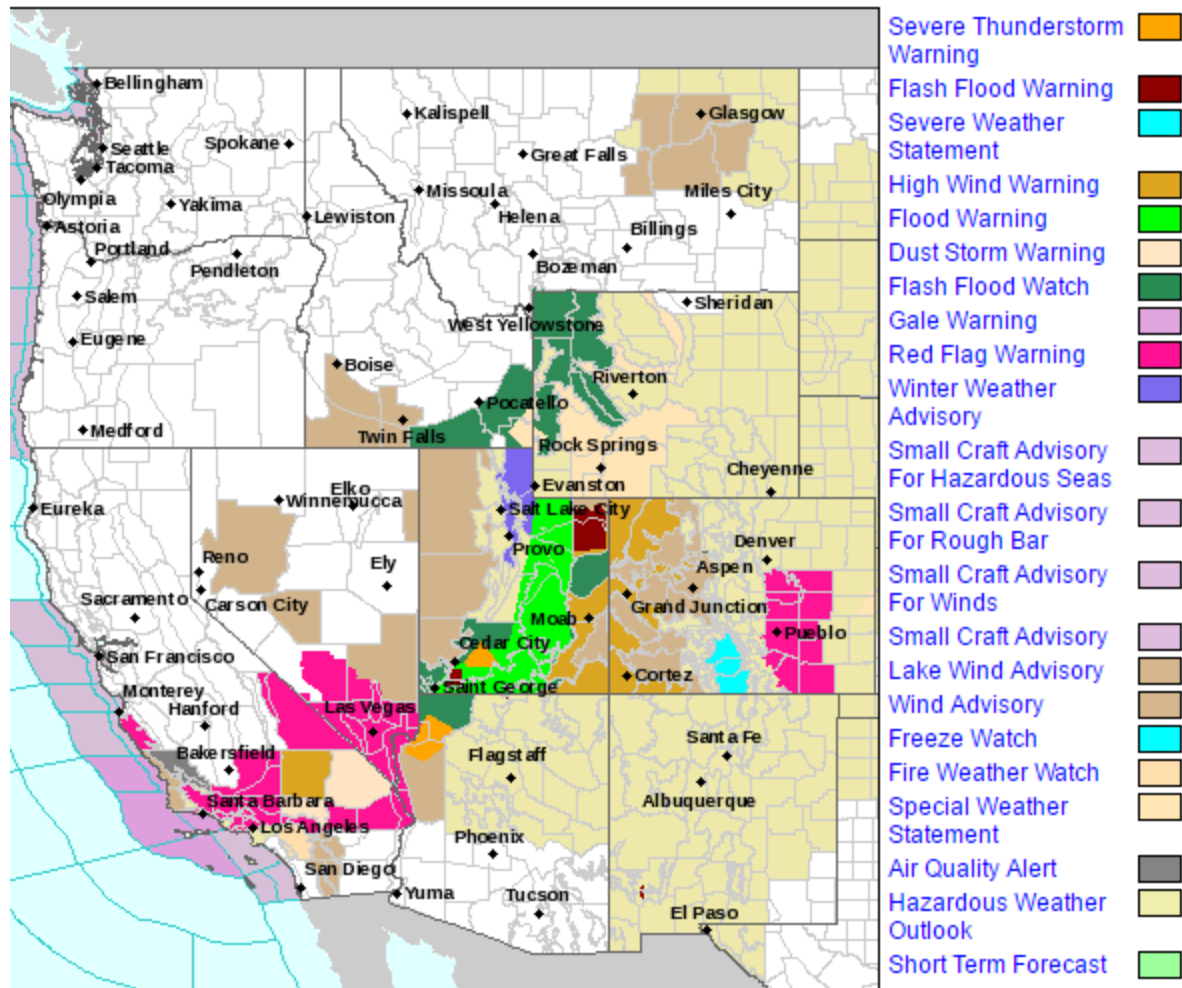

NORTHERN CALIFORNIA

Low pressure is moving across Northern California this morning with a few isolated rain showers. Isolated thunderstorms are also possible. The low will be over Central Nevada this afternoon, and the last showers and isolated thunderstorms will end in our eastern areas by sunset. Rainfall totals with any showers or thunderstorms will be light, generally 0.20 inches or less with a direct hit. Variable high cloudiness is expected Friday. Temperatures across the region will be 9-12 degrees below normal today and 3-6 degrees below normal on Friday. Following the passage of the low, a northwest to northeast surface wind pattern will develop later today and continue through Tuesday. Areas from the western Sierra slopes to the coast will have north-northeast offshore wind gusts to 25 mph or so during nights and mornings through Friday, then increase to 25-30 mph Friday night and continue all day Saturday and through Sunday morning. Poor overnight relative humidity (RH) recovery will be common beginning Friday night, and daytime RH will be 10-20% in inland areas west of the crest. This wind event will approach High Risk criteria in and around the Sacramento Valley Saturday. The winds will become lighter Sunday afternoon, but still continue during nights and mornings into early next week. Afternoon temperatures will rebound to 6-12 degrees above normal Saturday through early next week. A weak cold front on Wednesday will bring a wind shift, higher humidity, and drop temperatures back closer to normal.

SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

A trough currently passing through the state will produce strong winds over the area today. At the current time, winds are gusting around 45 mph in Santa Barbara County. These winds will remain strong through the morning before weakening somewhat this afternoon. However, north winds gusting to 50 mph along with relative humidity (RH) in the teens will likely develop tonight once again in Santa Barbara County. Elsewhere, west and northwest winds will increase to 25-35 mph with gusts over 50 mph along the Sierra Crest, western Owens Valley, Kern County Mountains, Banning Pass and most of the central Mojave. RH will drop into the teens across the Kern County Mountains and western half of the Owens Valley by afternoon. Expect cooler temperatures over most areas today. Most winds outside Santa Barbara County will decrease Friday, but expect north winds of 15-25 mph across the I-5 Corridor, and the northern half of the Angeles and San Bernardino National Forest. Temperatures will climb back into the 90s tomorrow under sunny and dry conditions. This weekend, widespread critical fire weather conditions are expected as the first widespread offshore wind event of the season takes shape. Northeast winds will develop Saturday morning, reaching the 15-25 mph range over many coastal and valley areas by Saturday afternoon. The offshore winds will affect not only Southern California, but northeast winds will also be possible along the central coast as well. Temperatures will climb to 100-105 in the valleys and lower foothills with 90s likely all the way to the coast. Minimum RH will be in the single digits by Saturday afternoon with poor recovery expected the next several nights. Winds may slacken some on Monday, but it will remain hot and dry through Tuesday. A slow downward trend in temperatures is expected during the second half of next week.
